LETS TALK ABOUT EFFICIENCY

We've outlined what eco-friendly features our homes have, now let's dive into how these features work.

As environmental awareness increases, eco-efficient homes are becoming a priority for buyers. These homes are crafted to not only reduce environmental impact but also lower monthly costs. They feature a high level, almost 100% airtight construction that minimises heat loss, supplemented by a mechanical heat ventilation recovery system that recycles warm air for maximum efficiency.

These homes exceed UK insulation standards with 115mm of reflective external insulation and triple-glazed windows to enhance heat retention. We also employ Air Source Heat Pump technology, an efficient system that uses less energy thanks to our underfloor heating.

Lastly, each home is equipped with integrated PV Solar Panels to harness solar energy, promoting sustainable living with considerably reduced running costs. These features ensure your home is both eco-friendly and economically beneficial.

Here is what to expect in these eco-efficient homes:

1. Highly efficient air source heating systems
2. Integrated PV solar panels
3. High level, almost 100% airtight construction
4. Water-based underfloor heating
5. Mechanical heat ventilation recovery systems
6. Enhanced external wall insulation
7. Ultra-efficient triple-glazed windows and doors
